AMERICAN ORGANS

MANUFACTORY,

Tremont, opposite Waltham St.,

BOSTON, MASS.

THE AMERICAN ORGAN makes Home Attractive, and refines and elevates the minds of all. Beautiful in its appearance and effects.

Seventeen---17---First Premiums were awarded to the American Organs IN THE MONTH OF OCTOBER, 1865, over all Competitors, at different State and County Fairs.

First Premium awarded to the American Organs at the Great New York State Agricultural Fair at Rochester, September 1865, over the Whole catalogue exhibited by the most Celebrated Makers.

THE AMERICAN ORGANS are the ONLY REAL REED ORGANS now before the public.—The only Organ having a REVERBERATING SOUND BOX or WIND CHEST—which has the same important part to perform as the Sounding Board has in a Piano Forte (to give body and resonance of tone) and without which the Organ becomes merely a Melodeon in an Organ case. The American Organs not only have the Wind-Chest, or Sound-Box but have the large Organ Bellows, giving power and great sweetness of tone. These with their extreme fine voicing of the Reeds and perfecting of the tone, make them the MOST PERFECT ORGAN KNOWN. Then, in fineness of workmanship, finish of action, and case, they excel all others. These great improvements and superiority of tone and workmanship of the AMERICAN ORGANS place them in the first rank as the best, and command a higher price than any other reed instrument in the market. A careful examination of them, in comparison with others, will quickly show their superiority.

Special attention is called to the style of AMERICAN ORGAN, No. 17, containing the Super-Octave Coupler and Sub Bass. FOR CHURCHES in want of a powerful instrument, whose means are limited its price renders it very desirable.

EVERY ORGAN IS WARRANTED TO PROVE SATISFACTORY.

THE AMERICAN ORGANS all have the Reverberating Sound-Box, or Wind-Chest, and are finished in the highest style of art, in Rosewood, Jet Walnut, and Oak finish, richly Varnished and Polished, or in Smooth Oil Finish, forming elegant pieces of Furniture for the Parlor or Boudoir; and the Oak and Walnut especially adapted for Churches, Lecture and Lodge Rooms.

THE AMERICAN ORGANS are all finished with our new PATENT improvements, containing the improved Knee Swell, Double Bellows, two Blow Pedals, and TREMOLO found in no other instrument.

NEW STYLES OF CASES,

Richly Finished and Highly Ornamented.

American & Foreign Patents.

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

No. 78 State Street, (opposite Kilby street,) Boston.

AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries, Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all papers or drawings for Patents, executed on reasonable terms, with dispatch. Researches made into American and Foreign works, to determine the validity and utility of Patents of Inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

During eight months the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS; every one of which was decided in his favor by the Commissioner of Patents.

TESTIMONIALS.

I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.

CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they can not employ a man more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, in all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that one, is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. TELEGRAPHIC.

Despatches to the Evening Times.

NEW YORK, Mar. 10.

A special Washington despatch says:

Forty clerks were discharged from the Treasury Department yesterday.

General Custar who arrived from Texas yesterday, represents affairs in Texas in a gloomy condition, and daily growing worse.

NEW YORK, Mar. 10.

There was an immense Fenian meeting at Cooper Institute last night. Inflammatory speeches were made by acknowledged Fenian leaders. This morning the Fenian excitement shows no abatement.

Twenty distilleries were seized in this city yesterday by the Revenue officers, on account of the proprietors failing to pay the import levied on whiskey in the Internal Revenue law. The charges against the parties will probably be investigated to-day.

GALVESTON, March 10.

In the Convention a motion to make citizens of the white race the basis of representation was laid on the table.

A motion to strike out the word white was lost.

The motion to leave it optional with the Legislature to add other inhabitants of the State to the basis of representation was lost.

A proposition, giving the Legislature power to divide Texas into two States, one between Trinity and Red rivers, was referred to a special committee.

The ordinance annulling the secession ordinance is still being discussed.

GALVESTON, March 10.

Boots and shoes have declined 10 per cent, and domestic goods 15 per cent.

TORONTO, March 10.

Volunteers continue to respond to the call with great enthusiasm.

The Customs Department has issued a circular specially instructing the officers to thoroughly search all passengers and baggage coming into the Provinces, and detain all arms and munitions of war. All weapons will be taken from passengers, whose names will be taken, with a list of such as they may have in their possession. Express goods will be closely compared with the manifests, and suspected packages will be opened. Freight trains will be carefully examined, and no packages not mentioned in the manifest allowed to pass.

Cars will be sealed before passing the frontier.

Many papers, which call themselves Union, are using the term "Radicals" as though there was a distinct class of men in the country, and in the councils of the nation, who maintained the most hideous doctrines, and they even go so far as to give countenance to the charge that Mr. Sumner is a traitor just as Jefferson Davis. We are not surprised to see such language in such papers as the Machias Union, Argus, Bangor Democrat and papers of known secession and rebel sympathies. But for any paper professing to be Union to admit, even by implication, that such men as Mr. Sumner, who, however we may feel about some of his acts, is as highly patriotic, and as pure a lover of his country, and her honor, as any man who ever, drew the breath of life, ought to be classed with Jeff. Davis, is something we do not understand. Ten thousand dictums of President Johnson notwithstanding, we believe Mr. Sumner to be as pure, and as incorruptible a patriot, as ever existed. We conceive the whole Union party to be radicals. Radically right. Men talk differently. Some are more impulsive than others; there are many differences of opinion on minor points, but all argue in the great fundamental principle of equal rights. We object to this singling out men in one common interest, and stigmatizing them with approbrious epithets, because of minor differences of opinion.—[Machias Republican.

PLOUGHING AS A PASTIME. A traveller in the South thus writes to the Memphis Post:—

I wished to learn who was doing the ploughing along the line of the New Orleans and Jackson and the Mississippi Central railroads. Ploughing has lately suggested a question of considerable interest to me. "The negro won't work." That's settled, at least so say those who ought to know; and as I am unwilling to set up my opinion in opposition to the opinions of those who claim to know as much about a negro as the man who made him, I am forced to the conclusion that the hundreds of negroes who were ploughing in the fields along the line of the Mobile and Ohio Railroad were doing it for pastime—all other methods of pleasure seeking being "played out"—and I was confirmed in this opinion by the entire absence of all white men from participation in this new kind of field sport, they undoubtedly being engaged in useful labor for the support of the indolent negro who "won't work"—but must eat If the negroes throughout the South have adopted this method of idling away their time, and should stick to such foolishness all summer, what will be their surprise and delight to find, next fall, that they have made as much cotton as they used to when they were compelled to work.—Should I see the freedmen along the line of my route home cavorting around the fields, wearing out all the mules and ploughs in the country for their own diversion I shall feel bound to report them to Gen. Fisk and ask him to permit the enforcement of the Mississippi "Vagrant act."

PENNSYLVANIA REPUBLICAN RESOLUTIONS. The Pennsylvania Republican State Convention adopted a list of eighteen resolutions. The first is complimentary to President Johnson for his past career, and appeals to him "to stand firmly by the side, and to lean upon the support, of the loyal masses, whose votes formed the foundation of his promotion, and who pledged to them their unswerving support in all measures by which treason shall be stigmatized, loyalty recognized, and the freedom, stability and purity of the National Union secured." An amendment to this, endorsing the future policy of the administration in advance, was offered, and withdrawn after some debate, when the original resolution was adopted by a vote of 109 to 21. The resolutions censure Senator Cowan for his course on reconstruction, and request him to resign, and they also compliment Secretary Stanton and Gen'l Grant. They heartily commend the course of Congress.

CONGRESS AND THE PRESIDENT. Many of the Republican members of Congress are very desirous, a correspondent says, of bringing the session to an early close after admitting Tennessee, and perhaps Arkansas, and passing the Appropriation Bill, while others will not assent to an abandonment of the Capital by Congress while the Union remains in its present critical state. He also makes the following statement:—

A highly important rumor has just reached me from a source entitled to consideration, to the effect that the President has summoned to Washington the Senators elect from all the reorganized Southern States lately in revolt. The report may be premature. But several of these Senators are now at Washinton, and have been requested by the President to remain. That he may have occasion to confer with all of them, after the events of yesterday, is not improbable.

The Washington correspondent of the Worcester Spy, writing upon the same subject says that it is known that the President has sent for A. H. Stephens.

Reconstruction.

BY GENERAL NEAL DOW.

I have lately had an opportunity to learn thoroughly the temper of the Southern people, and their views, intentions, and expectations of the future. Or, rather, my previous opinions in relation to these points have been abundantly confirmed, by a friend of great intelligence, who has spent many months at the South, mostly in South Carolina, and in companionship with many leading men there, from whom he has been successful in drawing out fully their views of the future.

"We have made one great mistake," said a leading man in South Carolina. "It is a matter of the greatest importance to us to be admitted to the Union speedily, that we may have immediate and entire control of our own affairs, and especially over the negroes. We ought, therefore, in our local elections, to have held our opinions and determinations in abeyance for the time, and to have elected men, either of known Union sentiments or such as were not known to be prominent secessionists. I saw the importance of this, and others did the same; we made an effort to have our views adopted, but the feeling of the South against the North and the Union is so strong that no one would give us a hearing. It was with us a matter of policy: and if our advice had been adopted, South Carolina would to-day be in the Union, with full power to manage all our own affairs and our own negroes, without interference from any quarter.

How would we manage the negros and regulate negro labor? Why, by our state laws we should prescribe how they should work, for whom, and for how much wages, and provide any penalties we please for any infractions of our rules. The Northern radicals would see that all their fanatical schemes for emancipation had failed, and that the negroes would be substantially what they were before—slaves—as they ought to be, for they never can be fitted for anything else."

No, you are mistaken in thinking the United States courts would or could interfere at all in the matter. How could they do it? No lawyer would dare to meddle in such a matter, or any other, against public opinion; or if any one should defy Southern feeling, he would be driven out of the state immediately by the people, or perhaps be more summarily dealt with. Massachusetts once tried to bring a case in this state before the U. S. courts; you know the result of that. Since then, South Carolina opinions and feelings have not changed, except in becoming, if possible, more resolute and determined. South Carolina never did, before the war, pay any deference to the laws or Constitution of the United States, except so far as she approved their provisions; and she has not changed in that matter, except in having a more inflexible will."

On another occasion, talking with an influential South Carolinian, he said: "We have no fears as to our future, as you call it; that cannot fail to come right. What are our plans? We have none; no plans or management are necessary, except, perhaps, in recovering our place in the Union. When the Southern States are once more in Congress, all the rest will follow as a matter of course. Without an effort, the South will drift into her old position of control—domination, if you choose to call it so—of the National Government. What makes me think so? Why, everything indicates it so that, to my mind there can be no mistaking the signs. Why, even the most ultra radicals of the North and of Congress propose no punishment or penalty whatever for even 'the bloodiest rebels,' as they call some of us. All that talk which was so fierce at first, has died out. All the Northern thirst for vengeance has been sated by hanging two old women and half a dozen low fellows for murder. Not one has been punished in any way for rebellion, nor will there be. Here at the South, when we speak of 'the South,' or of 'Southern rights,' we mean only that part of our people whom you call rebels; we do not count our few Union people, or the negroes, as forming any part of the South, or as having any rights. All your Northern politicians, and especially the Democrats, adopted that idea, and have no other. Your President has no other. He is a Southern man, born and raised. No man at the South is more thoroughly imbued with Southern opinions and feeling. We are extremely anxious to get into Congress before the radicals can have time to limit our power and influence. Your President sympathizes with us, and favors our wishes and views to the utmost of his power, and desires to preserve to us our full power in Congress, notwithstanding the manumission of our slaves.

How can we again control the government? Precisely as we did in the past. Our Southern vote in Congress will be an unit upon every point, as it was not, always, before the war. This will constitute a sure base for a great party. The South has lost nothing in influence with the Democratic party of the North. That party will unite with us heartily, from the moment that we recover our place in Congress. That party is in a minority in all the Northern States now? Yes; and why? Because, without the South it cannot hope for a majority in Congress. When the Southern States enter Congress once more, the Democratic party in the North will start into new life, and multitudes of former Democrats now acting with the Republican party, will abandon it and become Democrats once more. With the entire vote of the South—sure for that party, it will require no very large accession of force from the North to give it the control of the government."

When in Charleston, he was in conversation with two gentlemen, and found them very free to express their views. Indeed, nowhere at the South now is there much hesitation in saying what the South will do when it gets back into Congress. My friend asked them what the Southern policy would be. "What will our policy be? You may be sure of one thing: it will not be for the peace and quiet of the Yankees. They have beaten us at fighting; but we have always beaten them in politics, and can easily do it again. Although a minority, we could always out-vote and out-general them, and shall do it again.

We shall in the future, as in the past have presidents and heads of departments who will reflect our views and be in our interests, and we shall always be the dominant power in the government. What particular measures shall we pursue? Why, they are so numerous as hardly to be counted, and so obvious that any man who knows anything of human nature can easily mention the most prominent of them.

1st. The South has been robbed of two thousand millions of property in slaves by the Federal Government—private property taken for public uses; we will demand compensation for it—and get it too!

2d. The South has been desolated by federal armies in their march, thousands of millions of property destroyed; we will demand payment for that. Hundreds of millions in cotton and tobacco have been seized, by federal officers and put into the treasury. We will have pay for that. Many thousands of stores, shops, and houses in all the South have been occupied by federal officers and troops for quarters, stores and hospitals. We will have pay for all that. You have an immense pension list at the North, for the benefit of all wounded and disabled soldiers and sailors, and widows and orphans of the slain; we will have all our Southern people of the same classes put upon that list! You have an immense public debt, incurred for the purpose of conquering us; we are taxed equally with you for the interest and principal of that debt. We will never consent by our votes to any tariff or tax, external or internal, for any such purpose."

"You smile incredulously, as if we were counting too largely upon our influence and power; but your knowledge of the political history of the country from the beginning up to the war must satisfy you that the future will be a repetition of the past. We shall soon have all the Southern fortresses and harbors under our control again, as in the past; and then, in the event of a war with England or France, we could and would put them into the keeping of the hostile power, and take our independence of the Union in payment. For you may be sure of this, that, sooner or later, we are resolved to be free from the Union, which we hate now even more than we did before the war."

During a residence of many months in the South, my friend had constant intercourse with leading men, and he found everywhere the current of feeling and opinion the same. The South is mortified and humiliated by its defeat; it dreads no punishment; it hates the Union more intensely than ever, and bides the time for a signal revenge.

Protection to Aroostook.

We publish to-day the doings of a meeting of the citizens of Ashland and vicinity, and also their memorial to Congress in reference to the proposed tax upon the lumber cut in Upper Aroostook, after it has passed to the markets of the United States by the way of the river St. John. Likewise the Memorial of the citizens of Presque Isle, Maysville, Fort Fairfield and vicinity, upon the same matter. As we understand it, a bill is before Congress, intending to admit the products of American soil, which shall necessarily pass British waters to be manufactured and to reach a market, to the markets of the United States on the same terms as like products which never pass through foreign waters.

This is obviously so just, and proper, that we wonder that any person should seriously oppose it. No one can tell why the immense quantity of lumber growing and standing on the two hundred townships lying upon the St. John and its tributaries in Maine, and which must necessarily in all coming time pass by the way of the St. John to a market, should not go to the markets of Boston. Providence and New York, on the same terms as the lumber of the Penobscot, Machias, or Kennebec. When, by the Treaty of Washington, the government secured for the citizens of Maine the free navigation of the St. John as some compensation for yielding the jurisdiction and ownership of the immense country north of the St. John, which confessedly belonged to Maine, what practical benefit was secured, if our lumber after it had passed down the river is to be treated in all respects as the growth and product of New Brunswick? Such being the case, it is New Brunswick lumber and nothing else. The owners of the land, the operators, and all connected with the lumbering operations of Northern Maine are, so far as their business interests are concerned, the citizens of New Brunswick and nothing else.

The policy advocated by the Bangor Convention is astonishing. We understand that it is proposed that Congress impose a specific duty of $5 per thousand upon pine and $3 per thousand upon spruce, of foreign growth and manufacture, imported into the United States; and then propose to treat the lumber of Aroostook, which goes down the St. John as foreign lumber. Any one can see that such a duty amounts to a prohibition of the importation of Province lumber into the ports of the United States. It is undoubtedly intended to be so, and thus give the markets of Massachusetts, Rhode Island, &c., exclusively to Bangor, Machias, Calais, and the other few towns which furnish the description of lumber peculiar to Maine and the Province.

This is an injustice to Aroostook which we are not prepared to witness from our friends in Bangor at least. These two hundred townships are regarded by Bangor as the vast territory which some day is to lay its wealth at her feet and make that city the storehouse of our merchandise; and with the wealth which will grow out of our forests, if these forests can be floated to the ocean and a market, unimpeded by custom-house officials and exactions; these forests will become fruitful fields, dotted all over with thriving villages, which with a railroad such as Bangor can give us, will pour the wealth of almost a boundless territory into her lap. But if that city, in its narrowness and selfishness, is determined to kill the goose that in all coming time will lay for her golden eggs, then we can only say, we will take care of ourselves if we can, and send our eggs to a more liberal market.

A branch railroad from Richmond station to Houlton, in connection with the branch now building to Calais, which will be open for travel in August next, will be to us the long talked of "railroad to the Aroostook." We shall have a road with its terminus at both ends on American soil. An open port all winter at one end, a good and safe harbor sixty miles nearer the ocean than Bangor, having as noble and enterprising a body of business men as live; on one end; and Aroostook, with its boundless forests, its unsurpassed fertile soil, its mineral wealth, and its one hundred thousand of inhabitants which it will have within twenty-five years, at the other end. Bangor will be to us an island in a "watery waste," so far as any business connection with her is concerned. If Bangor can afford this state of things, which is fast coming, not because we want it so, but because the citizens of that city seem determined to have it so, we can stand it!—[Sunrise.

The Sunrise is a little fast. We have seen a petition to Congress, signed by most of the merchants of Bangor, in favor of such legislation as shall secure to Aroostook her rights in this matter, (which we understand has been forwarded to our delegation,) and there has been no disposition here to abridge those rights.

Even the Lumbermen's Convention, of which the Sunrise and the Pioneer complain so much, distinctly declared that they were not opposed to the admission of Aroostook lumber, free of duty, into our ports, if it could be done without also admitting Provincial under the name of Aroostook lumber. We think the Convention did not sufficiently consider that the bill now before Congress gives full authority to the Secretary of the Treasury to prescribe such rules and regulations from time to time as he may deem necessary; and under such ample authority there can be no reasonable doubt that the object aimed at of admitting Aroostook lumber and excluding Provincial lumber can be readily attained.

We hope the Sunrise will keep cool, and wait awhile before seriously entertaining the purpose of exchanging old friends for new, until the necessity for it arrives.

"After suffering from catarrh and polypus in my head for six years, I placed myself under the care of Dr. Carpenter, at the Bangor House, who removed the polypus with little pain, and after about three months treatment for catarrh, I find myself free from the complaint. When I consulted the Dr., I had copious discharges from my nose and mouth, dullness in the head and much difficulty in talking and breathing; I now have none of these troubles." THEODORE WYMAN.

MARRIED.

In this city 8th inst., by Rev. Mr. Small, Freeman H. Chase, M. D., of Lincoln, and Miss Isabella J. Buker, of Bangor.

DIED.

Mrs. Pomroy! We cannot speak worthily of her; but those who watched her lowly, patient, cheerful, kind, earnest life, (perfect through suffering), know that she was one whom earth could ill afford to lose, and Heaven might well rejoice to welcome. Receiving the sudden announcement that she too has gone over the river, we recalled the brave dreamer's words concerning the arrival of Christian and Hopeful at the Celestial City.

"Now I saw in my dream that these two men went in at the gate; and lo! as they entered, they were transfigured; and they had raiment put on that shone like gold. There were also that met them with harps and crowns, and gave them to them; the harps to praise withal, and the crowns in token of honor. Then I heard in my dream, that all the bells in the city rang again for joy, and that it was said unto them,—Enter ye into the joy of our Lord." [COM.

The U S consul at Liverpool informs the State Department that the Rinderpest is on the increase. No remedy has yet been found that meets with any general confidence, although there are several that promise well. Gen Sprague, Asst. Commissioner of the Freedmen's Affairs for the States of Missouri and Arkansas, reports under date of Feb 20th that 28,484 rations more were issued to white refugees in the month of January than in December, as the number of refugees requiring assistance had increased.

The number of rations issued to the freedmen in January were 4151 less than issued in December. Dependent freed people diminished 167 since the close of last year. He believes the issue to refugees will have to be further increased, because in many parts of the district there was but a scant supply of food last fall, and this has been exhausted. The poor are without money or means to procure food from a distance, and there seems to be no alternative but to supply the helpless women and children from the government commissary department or leave them to starve. The commissioner, therefore, is placing a liberal construction on the act for refugees, and is preventing starvation in all parts of the district. He estimates the number of helpless poor that will be dependent on the government, for support, during the next three months, to be about 4000.

Two hundred and fifty boxes of clothing have been distributed among the destitute white people.

Be a Committee to prepare a Memorial to the Congress of the United States, setting forth the facts in regard to the subject before this meeting—and calling for such action on the part of Congress as will secure the equitable rights and promote the interests of the people of this county.

The Committee subsequently reported that they had prepared and signed a Memorial to Congress as directed by the meeting—and said Memorial being read, it was

Resolved, That this meeting heartily approves of the Memorial prepared by the Committee, and respectfully recommend the same to the consideration of Congress.

Resolved, That our Senators and Representatives in Congress be requested to use their efforts to secure the passage of a law, placing the lumber of Aroostook upon the same footing as that grown in other sections of the country, notwithstanding it may be sawed in the Province of New Brunswick.

Voted, That these proceedings, with the Memorial, be published in the papers printed in this county, and that the other papers in the State be respectfully requested to insert the same, and that a copy of the proceedings and Memorial be forwarded to each of the Congressional delegation from this State. Webster Treat vs. Waldo T. Pierce.—Judgment for demandant, and on motion of defendant the conditional judgment as on mortgage.

WARDEN AND CLERK. It will be recollected that by an amendment to the City Charter in 1863, the present Wardens and Clerks in the different Wards hold over for one week from the day of the annual municipal election, or until their successors are elected and qualified. Consequently the Wardens and Clerks should be voted for upon the same ticket with the Mayor, Aldermen and Councilmen.

THE RAILROAD VOTE. It should be understood that there are two railroad questions to be voted upon to-day, and in separate boxes. First, whether the city will extend the time two years of the present act allowing a loan of $500,000. Second whether the city will grant an additional loan of $500,000, under the conditions of the act published in our paper of Saturday. Every one should vote.

WARD 5. At the caucus in Ward 5 on Saturday evening, John L. Crosby, Esq., was nominated to fill the vacancy in the Ward ticket chased by the declination of Wm. H. Bishop, Esq.

THE PORTLAND AND MACHIAS STEAMER. We find the following in a letter to the Machias Republican from Capt. Deering of the steamer "City of Richmond," recently bought for the Portland & Machias route.—She is a first class steamer, 220 feet long, six months old, and costing $130,000.

The Company intend to make two trips a week from Machias to Portland. Leaving Machiasport Mondays and Thursdays at 5 o'clock in the morning, touching at Jonesport, Millbridge, S. W. Harbor, Mt. Desert Sedgwick, Deer Isle, Castine and Rockland. Arriving in Rockland in time to connect with the steamer Katahdin, Sanford's boat for Boston, thence proceed to Portland. Arriving in Portland at eleven o'clock same night. Passengers can stay on board till morning before going ashore, then take the morning train at 6 o'clock, arriving in Boston about ten A. M.

She will leave Portland at 10 P. M. on Tuesdays and Fridays, on the arrival of the afternoon train from Boston. Arriving in Rockland next morning at daylight, so as to connect with Sanford's boat from Boston, thence to Machiasport, touching at the same places as coming up. Arriving at Machiasport about 4 o'clock P. M. Wednesdays and Saturdays.

She will accommodate two hundred passengers, has 28 state-rooms for passengers, and will carry about two thousand barrels. She will make fifteen miles easy per hour.

DECISION IN THE FANNY BUCK CASE.—A friend in London has sent us a full report of the proceedings in Admiralty in the suits for damages caused by the collision between the British steamer Samphire and the American bark Fanny Buck of Searsport, owned by Wm. McGilvery, Esq., and others. The collision occurred on the night of Dec. 13, 1865, in the English Channel, about five miles off Dover. Both vessels were considerably injured—(the Samphire, as alleged, being in danger of sinking) and two men were killed on board the S. The testimony is printed minutely and at great length. At the conclusion, after the court had retired for consultation, the decision was declared by Hon. Dr. Lushington as follows:—"The Samphire is solely to blame for this collision." An appeal was taken to the Judicial Committee of Privy Council.

OUR CONGRESSIONAL DELEGATIONS.—Speaking of the delegations in Congress from this State, the Hallowell Gazette remarks that they are all true, unflinching Union men, who will not hesitate in the performance of their duties in upholding the interests and honor of their State, and struggling for the best welfare of the whole country in this hour of agitation. Maine has not a weak or doubtful man in Congress, but on the contrary has sent some of the best men the country produces.

MR. ZEPHIRIM PICHE of this village, a discharged soldier who has suffered from sun-stroke, wandered off from his home on Saturday, and is supposed to have gone off in a deranged state toward Bangor. He is about twenty-eight years of age; his height about five feet eight; weighs about 160; eyes, hair and moustache, black; was well dressed in dark coat and pants, and had a considerable sum of money about his person. Information of his whereabouts will be thankfully received by his friends. Address this office.—[Waterville Mail.

RAILROAD ACCOMMODATIONS. The Portland Press learns that it is contemplated next month to put on a night express train between Boston and Portland, over the Boston & Maine and Eastern Roads, to leave Boston at 7 P. M., and Portland at 5 P. M. It is also contemplated to connect these trains at Portland with boats to and from Bangor.

—At the Freedmen's Fair in Portland last week, the contest for the Bible resulted in its being won by the Abysinian church, the colored people and their friends subscribing the largest amount—$173. Mrs. Washburne, with a little book of autographs which was put into a raffle, handed over the snug little sum of $159 50.

—On Wednesday evening a party of Good Templars, eleven in number, on their way from Kendall's Mills to Waterville to attend a levee at that place, had their carriage broken down, and five of the company were seriously injured, though no bones were broken. The injured were Mrs. Eldridge, Miss Pratt, Mrs. George Mayo, Chas. Eaton, and one other. Thus far they are all doing well.

—The Farmington Chronicle says last week between $100 and $150 were abstracted from a safe in the store of Russell & Greenwood, Wilton. The safe was left unlocked for a short time, and the bold rogue must have stolen the money while one of the partners was in the store. A National $100 bill was part of the amount stolen.

—The Newburyport Herald says that the State of Maine promises to have a future growth exceeding that of any other New England State. It is improving the present opportunity, as every community should, to lay the foundation for the time to come.

—We are indebted to an unknown friend for a copy of a pamphlet containing the inauguration services of the statue of General Berry at Rockland. The oration, which is an eloquent production, was delivered by Rev. Mr. Butler of Camden.

—Hon. George S. Wiggin, who has just been re-elected Mayor of Rockland, has held that office uninterruptedly since the spring of 1858. The Rocklanders don't believe in rotation when they have found the right man for the place.

—Charles Plummer, youngest son of S. L. Plummer, Esq., a lad sixteen years of age, was thrown from a horse in Gardiner Thursday afternoon and severely injured about the head.

—The Farmington Chronicle thinks that party lines should remain intact in Town, as well as State or National elections.

—The Universalist Society of Augusta held a successful levee last Wednesday evening.

—The Louisville Journal very wisely advises the Southern States, as the best way to kill radicalism, to legislate at once so as to protect the freedmen in persons and property equally with the whites. Let the Southern States do just that thing, and "radicalism" will die of joy, and even "New England fanaticism" will be heard of no more in connection with the inevitable negro.

—The funny man of the Boston Advertiser will not take warning, and will probably be the death of some one yet. Here is his latest abomination:

A basso may perhaps be said to resemble a moderately fast trotter when he gets low down in his fortes.

—An extraordinary correspondence appears in the British Union Review between one hundred and ninety-eight canons and eight clergymen of the Church of England, and Cardinal Patrizi of the Holy Office, inquiring how far arrangements could be made for admitting them bodily into the Church of Rome. The reply was not favorable.

—General Howard has written a letter on the subject of marriages among the freedmen, in which he directs that each Assistant Commissioner should consult the State laws with regard to the marriage and divorce of white persons, and embody them for the benefit of freedmen.

—A Chattanooga paper of March 3d says that Mrs. Jefferson Davis and her youngest child arrived in that city the night before, and were stopping at the Crutchfield House. Mrs. D. appeared to be in the enjoyment of excellent health, and the infant looked fat and hearty.

—The Governor of Massachusetts has appointed the 5th of April for the Annual Fast.

—A Consistory will be held in Rome on the 19th inst., when an American Cardinal will be created.

The Great Worm Remedy.

IT has been said by more than one eminent physician that more sickness among children is the result of Pin Worms than all other causes:—that worms imitate the symptoms of most other diseases, often producing fatal results, without being suspected. From this cause of so much sickness, every family may have an effectual remedy, by procuring a bottle of

Dr. E. G. Gould's Pin Worm Syrup.

It will remove ordinary stomach worms oftener than any of the vermifuges in the market, and for Pin Worms it has no equal. It will relieve children or adults from all annoyance in twenty-four hours, and effect an entire cure when taken according to directions. It is a mild cathartic, and can be given to the youngest child with perfect safety. It improves the health by removing all impurities from the system.

MUTTY'S Friction Feed Roller, FOR CIRCULAR SAWS.
PATENTED JANUARY 23d, 1866.

THIS INVENTION is applicable to all Circular Saws provided with stationary tables and used for re-sawing lumber.

It reduces the labor of sawing one half, and fifty per cent. more lumber can be sawed with, than without its use. It is applied without change of existing machinery; is not liable to get out of repair, and not expensive to apply.

It has been in practical use on the Penobscot river for one year, where the above facts have been fully and satisfactorily demonstrated, as is shown by the certificates of master mill-men, machinists, owners and operators of mills appended hereto.

The undersigned have for the past season witnessed the practical use of MUTTY'S FEED ROLLER in re-sawing lumber and we cheerfully recommend it as a practical, economical, and labor-saving invention, destined to come into general use in all cases where lumber is re-sawed upon stationary tables. We are fully satisfied from our own observation that the saving effected, and extra amount cut, by its use, is fully as large as the estimate above given.

TAKE HEART.

All day the stormy wind has blown
From off the dark and rainy sea;
No bird has past the window flown,
The only song has been the moan
The wind made in the willow tree.

This is the summer's burial time:
She died when dropped the earliest leaves,
And, cold upon her rosy prime,
Fell down the autumn's frosty rime—
Yet I am not as one that grieves.

For well I know o'er sunny seas
The blue-bird waits for April skies;
And at the roots of forest trees
The May-flowers sleep in fragrant ease,
And violets hide their azure eyes.

O thou, by winds of grief o'erblown
Beside one golden summer's bier—
Take heart! Thy birds are only flown,
Thy blossoms sleeping, tearful sown,
To greet thee in the immortal year!

EDNA DEAN PROCTOR.

Remarkable Escapes of Eminent Men.

Some years ago a young man, holding a subordinate position in the East India Company's service, twice attempted to deprive himself of life by snapping a loaded pistol at his head. Each time the pistol missed fire. A friend entering his room shortly afterwards, he requested him to fire it out of the window; it then went off without any difficulty. Satisfied thus that the weapon had been duly primed and loaded, the young man sprang up, exclaiming, "I must be reserved for something great;" and from that moment gave up the idea of suicide, which for some time previous had been uppermost in his thoughts. That young man afterwards became Lord Clive.

Two brothers were on one occasion walking together when a violent storm of thunder and lightning overtook them. One was struck dead on the spot, the other was spared; else would the name of the great reformer Martin Luther, have been unknown to mankind.

The holy St. Augustine, having to preach at a distant town, took with him a guide, who by some unaccountable means mistook the general road and fell into a by-path. He afterwards discovered that his enemies, having heard of his movements, had placed themselves in the proper road with the design of murdering him.

Bacon, the sculptor, when a tender boy of 5 years old, fell into the pit of a soap-boiler, and must have perished had not a workman, just entering the yard, observed the top of his head, and immediately delivered him.

When Oliver Cromwell was an infant, a monkey snatched him from his cradle, leaped with him through a garret window, and ran along the leads of the house. The utmost alarm was excited amongst the inmates and various were the devices used to rescue the child from the guardianship of his newly found protector. All were unavailing; his would-be rescuers had lost courage, and were in despair of ever seeing the baby alive again, when the monkey quietly retraced its steps and deposited its burden safely on the bed. On a subsequent occasion the waters had well nigh quenched his insatiable ambition. He fell into a deep pond, from drowning in which a clergyman named Johnson was the sole instrument of his rescue.

At the siege Leicester, a young soldier, about seventeen years of age, was drawn out for sentry duty. One of his comrades was very anxious to take his place. No objection was made, and this man went. He was shot dead while on guard. The young man first drawn afterwards became the author of "Pilgrim's Progress."

Doddridge, when born was so weakly an infant it was believed to be dead. A nurse standing by thought she saw some signs of vitality. Thus the feeble spark of life was saved from being extinguished, and an eminent author and Christian preserved to the world.

John Wesley, when a child, was only just preserved from fire. Almost the moment he was rescued, the roof of the house where he had been fell in.

Of Philip Henry a similar instance is recorded.

John Knox the renowned Scotch reformer, was always wont to sit at the head of the table with his back to the window. On one particular evening, without, however, being able to account for it, he would neither himself sit in the chair nor permit any one else to occupy his place. That very night a bullet was shot in at the window, purposely to kill him; it grazed the chair in which he sat, and made a hole in the candlestick on the table.

Many years have now elapsed since three subalterns might have been seen struggling in the water, off St. Helena; one of them, peculiarly helpless, was fast succumbing. He was saved, to live as Arthur Wellesly, Duke of Wellington.

The life of John Newton is but a history of a series of marvellous deliverances. As a youth he had agreed to accompany some friends on board a man-of-war. He arrived too late to go; the boat in which his friends had gone was capsized and all its occupants drowned. On another occasion, when tide-surveyor of the port of Liverpool, some business had detained him, so that he came to his boat much later than usual, to the great surprise of those who were in the habit of observing his then undeviating punctuality. He went out in the boat as heretofore to inspect a ship, which blew up before he reached her. Had he left the shore a few minutes sooner he must have perished with the rest on board.

FEMALE MIDDLE CLASS EDUCATION IN GERMANY.—A French traveler in Germany says:—

The culinary art forms a part of the education of the women in Germany. The well-to-do tradesman, like the mechanic, takes pride in seeing his daughters good housekeepers. To effect this object the girl, on leaving school, which she does when about fourteen years of age, goes through the ceremony of confirmation, and is then placed by her parents with a country clergyman, or in a large family, where she remains one or two years, filling what may almost be termed the post of a servant, and doing the work of one. This is looked upon as an apprenticeship to domestic economy. She differs from a servant, however, in this—she receives no wages; on the contrary, her parents often pay for the care taken of her, as well as for her clothing. This is the first step in her education in housekeeping. She next passes, on the same conditions, into the kitchen of a rich private family, or that of some hotel of good repute. Here she has control of the expenditures, and of the servants employed in it, and assists personally in the cooking, but is always addressed as Fraulein, or Miss, and is treated by the family with deference and consideration.

Many daughters of rich families receive a similar training, with this difference, however, that they receive it in a princely mansion or royal residence. There is a reigning queen in Germany at this moment who was trained in this way. Consequently the women of Germany are perfect models of order and economy. The richest lady as well as the poorest woman, is well acquainted with the market price of provisions; and it gives one real satisfaction to see her bustling about from one part of the house to another; now peeping into the nursery to see how the children are going on, then looking into the kitchen to see that the cook is doing her duty, and that everything is perfectly clean, and generally giving an eye to everything and everybody, and keeping all well up to their work. In short, she is the very soul of the house.

COUNTRY [illegible].—Several years ago there was an annual three days "muster" of certain Western [illegible] regiments, held at Northampton, in the State. "High Private" in one of the companies, was the friend I [illegible] wrote of; and jolly good times he and two or three more choice spirits made for their comrades-in-arms. Now round about camp various sutlers, showmen, and other barbarians had pitched their tents, for the purpose of relieving the military of their small change. Of course they succeeded admirably. One evening —— and some of his friends were outside the lines, having a good time. Roving from point to point they came upon a tent, outside which a burly man was shouting: "Walk up! walk up! walk right in and see the Kentucky giantess, the horse with six legs, and nary two alike; the living anacondas, and a man that swallows a sword and eats small rocks for supper—all for ten cents!"

"By Jove, boys," said ——, "that sounds good! Let's go in."

A smile overspread the features of the door-keeper at the "fat take" before him.

"Many in?" inquired ——.

"Lots? Full of soldiers?" replied the door-keeper. "It's worth the money; only ten cents! Pass right in."

"Count 'em," said ——.

"All right," quoth the guardian of the show; "pass right in, gentlemen."

And about thirty passed in.

"Have you counted 'em?" inquired ——.

"All right! thirty-two, an' you'll make thirty-three."

"Oh, I'm not going in," quoth ——.

"You ain't?" said the man, a horrible suspicion crossing his mind.

"No; I'm going back to camp," said ——. "Good night."

Then, if you could have seen that infuriated door-keeper speed to the mysterious interior of the tent!

There were at least a hundred persons crowded within its canvass walls, all in uniform.

"Here! Look-a-here! I counted you, I believe. Didn't I count you? Wasn't you counted?"

Thus he flew from blue-coat to blue; but not a soul owned up, and the thirty men saw the snakes and things for nothing.

It was a bad sell, decidedly.

IS IT STILL AN EXPERIMENT? The President told us last summer that his policy was an experiment to bridge over the period that would intervene before the meeting of Congress, when that body could take the business in its own hands, where it properly belonged. Inasmuch as that policy then was simply to let the late rebel States enter upon the work of reorganization themselves, while the government held in its hands all the time the power of correction—a power which the President frequently exercised—there was general acquiescence in it, notwithstanding a feeling of disappointment that the President had not boldly grasped the difficulty in his reconstruction proclamation. Whatever might happen, it was generally felt that Congress would guard the public interests when it should come together.

Now the Presidential veto and speech indicate that the President has made his experimental policy a permanent one—that he has gone further than that, and demanded that all Congressional supervision over the reconstruction of the late rebel States be abandoned, and that they be recognized as having equal political power.

How the President reconciles this practical change of policy we do not see. It is no excuse for him to say that in his judgment the rebel state governments are successes, and therefore their political powers belong to them. That is the very question on which Congress alone is entitled to decide, and in view of which they have been and still are seeking information. If they decide that it is just and safe to restore suspended political rights to Tennessee, or any other State, they will do so. Let the President return to his original policy, and there will be no conflict between him and Congress.—[Lewiston Journal.

DR. LAROOKAH'S Sarsaparilla Compound,

For the Speedy and Permanent Cure of Liver Complaints, Scrofula or King's Evil, Eruptions, and all Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Salt Rheum, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches and Boils; Rheumatic and Neuralgic Pains in the Bones, Side and Head; for the various Weaknesses to which Females are liable; Dyspepsia, Debility, Emaciation, Dropsy, and all diseases resulting from or in an impure state of the Blood.

IT is invaluable to Nervous Sufferers, and a positive cure for Palsy arising from the abuse of Mercury or Lead.

It is a Tonic as well as an Alterative, and a sure protection from attacks that originate in change of climate, season or life.

LIVER COMPLAINTS and their combined symptoms, such as Lumbago, Jaundice, Rheumatism, Bilious Eruptions, &c. When caused by Scrofula taint, this compound is a most effectual remedy.

DYSPEPSIA or INDIGESTION, is often caused by Scrofula, which deranges the stomach, and renders it unhealthy. Indigestion is not always caused by Scrofula, when it is, this Sarsaparilla Compound is a ready cure.

NEURALGIA, HEADACHE and various disorders of the nervous system frequently arise from a low state of the constitutional health, and are much relieved and often cured by this powerful remedy.

ERYSIPELAS, Boils, Tumors, or Salt Rheum, Ulcers, Sores, &c. Moderate doses three times a day will usually effect the cure of the above complaints, but often requires considerable time.

Price one dollar per bottle. Six bottles for five dollars.

Price 50 Cents and $1.00 per Bottle.

DR. KNIGHTS' Oriental Hair Restorer.

After a long series of experiments, this article, as it is now offered to the public, is believed to be the most perfect of its kind which science has ever devised. No pains have been spared to produce what has so long been demanded by thousands, who, from sickness or other causes, have become prematurely grey; and others, who, in the sere and yellow leaf of life, would retain, as far as possible, the semblance of youth. DR. KNIGHTS' ORIENTAL HAIR RESTORER, after a few applications, restores grey or faded hair to its original color, and is the only preparation of the kind upon which the public can place any reliance. It has never been known to fail in a single instance, and is totally unlike the thousand and one so-called Hair Restorers, by which so many have been egregiously deceived.

It is delightfully perfumed, gives the hair a rich and glossy appearance, promotes its luxuriant growth, and will not soil the skin, scalp, or any article of apparel.

PRICE 75 CENTS PER BOTTLE.

Notice to the Public

In the year 1836, the writer commenced the Drug Business in the city of Philadelphia, and became engaged, made several experiments [illegible] most desirable mode of preparing [illegible]. My efforts being successful—the articles being approved and used by the Medical [illegible] desirous of placing them before the public, [illegible] tated for some time before concluding [illegible] newspaper advertising, knowing the prejudice [illegible] existed in the minds of many against advertised Medicines or Nostrums [illegible] of friends and those who had used them the [illegible] tion was overcome.

After 18 years exertion, [illegible] way, the popularity of my articles [illegible] all parts of the United States, and [illegible] out foreign countries—and this [illegible] opposition. Every means has been [illegible] unprincipled dealers since their [illegible] have been known—such as [illegible] ties at less price, censuring [illegible] and even copying my advertisements—but I am happy to state that out of [illegible] who have resorted to this, none have [illegible]

His store is [illegible] fect Gem—the handsomest of any kind [illegible] had the pleasure of viewing, and [illegible] ing 34 feet front, five stories [illegible] feet deep. It indeed affords [illegible] know that he has been so successful [illegible] ple evidence of the merits of his articles [illegible] whole business experience we have [illegible] the success of any articles without [illegible] sing merely bringing the name before the [illegible]

[Boston Herald.

"We do not like to advertise worthless [illegible] articles calculated to deceive our readers, [illegible] we see an advertiser like Mr. Helmbold, who [illegible] have known for years, gradually extend his [illegible] using from year to year until he becomes the largest advertiser in the United States, we are [illegible] that the statements in regard to his articles are correct."
